Dear Secretary McDanno:

I have been voting for 36 years, and never have I been so afraid of what is happening to democracy in America. The Diebold machines have proved repeatedly unreliable, subject to tampering, and their results unverifiable. It is appalling that the State of California would even consider moving forward without the assurances that every citizen's vote will be correctly counted.

I voted for Governor Schwarzenegger the first time, however, unless my vote is protected from fraud, I will certainly not vote for him again. Of course, if he does win re-election, I shall never believe that the vote was an honest one.

Think about it.
